

ENVIRONMENT MANAGEMENT SYSTEM OBJECTIVES

Implementation, maintenance and continual improvement of the system of environmental management in accordance with the requirements of ISO 14001: 2015, and adopted the environmental policy, imposed the obligation to define the general and specific objectives of environmental protection:

General objective: Increasing the efficiency of utilization and conservation of energy and fuel.

Specific objective: Reducing energy consumption by 5% in 2018. year.

Specific objective: Reducing fuel consumption by 5% in 2018. year.

General objective: Reducing greenhouse gas emissions

Specific objective: Identifying air pollutants and take measures to reduce emissions.

General objective: Reducing the production of solid waste.

Specific objective: Reducing paper consumption and paper waste by 5% in 2018.

Specific objective: Reducing the production of solid waste by 5% in 2018.

General objective: Increasing the efficiency of solid waste management (adequate disposal and storage, re-use internally, externally re-use, recycling)

Specific objective: Ensuring proper and efficient handling of solid waste by the end of 2018.

Specific objective: Initiating and examine the possibilities for recycling.

General objective: Increasing the efficiency of the management of hazardous waste

Specific objective: Ensuring proper and effective treatment of hazardous waste by the end of 2018.

General objective: Reducing the use of the hazardous material.

Specific objective: Identifying all hazardous materials used in the organization and initiate the replacement with environmentally acceptable materials, where possible, in 2018.

General objective: To include the responsibility for environmental protection in our everyday work process. Continuously develop awareness of the importance of the environment for all employees.

Specific objective: Familiarize employees with the concept and principles of sustainable development.

Specific objective: Developing and implementing a program of education for environmental protection.

Specific objective: Ensuring the participation of employees in seminars dedicated to the issues of Specific objective: Encouraging employees in active participation in the development of environmental management, with their proposals for improving environmental performance.

Specific objective: establish ongoing communication with other stakeholders, especially with local communities and other organizations that deal with environmental issues, in order to ensure the implementation of joint activities for the benefit and in the interest of all

Specific objective: develop the systems for environmental quality monitoring and measurement

Achievement of these goals is the measure of the success of the organization, and therefore an obligation and responsibility primarily of the leadership (management) but also every employee.

Niš, 27.04.2018. year

Revision:	A
Published	27.04.2018.

Executive
Dragan Adamović